Wauneita Squaws Hold Initiations

By Frances Schroter

Skies at the University were red with the glow of campfires as nearly 160 Wauneita coeds were initiated into the campus tribe Tuesday night.

Freshettes, undergoing the traditional ceremony were introduced to tribal customs by a series of dignified rites.

The initiation was not attended by President Mary Morrison, who was notified Tuesday afternoon of the sudden death of her brother—and left for her home in Salmon Arm, B.C.

Acting Chief Margie Lee took over proceedings for the evening.

Starting at P.M. the initiates followed blanketed seniors to the tune of tom-toms, in a mass exodus towards the Council Chamber of the Wise (the Grid). The parade proceeded in single file to the first of the four campfires where Sophomore Chief Sutermeister presented each brave with a feather, symbol of light-heartedness.

At the two succeeding fires, prospective tribeswomen were given fagots, symbols of toil and invested with the Order of the Blanket by Junior Chief Tanner and Senior Chief Husband.

When the Great Council fire was reached, each Wauneita brave cast her fagot into the flames after being pledged by Great Chief Lee to obey all the tribal laws.

Wauneita Counsellors: Miss M. Simpson, Mrs. H. F. Baker, Mrs. H. T. Sparby and Miss M. Patrick attended.

The evening's events were officially concluded by Honorary Chief Mrs. Baker's closing theme "Ugh."

tising, Mr. Weekes also suggested that it should go on sale to the general public, through newsstands.

On the introduction of the financial side of the Stet picture, the meeting became sidetracked from the main issue.

Following last year's arrangement, Stet, if approved, would come under the business management of The Gateway. It was explained that The Gateway in recent years had had a surplus. This would mean that no increase in The Gateway's budget would be necessary.

Council then began discussing the whys and wherefores of the surplus. If Stet didn't appear this year, it was asked, where would the surplus go. It was pointed out that the Yearbook in former years had drawn on the surplus.

Suggestions that The Gateway budget be revised were numerous. But it was pointed out that such action would require a referendum. It was felt that this move would not be appreciated, and it was at this point that mention of the power of the press was made.

POWER OF PRESS

"This Council has more power than the press," was clearly enunciated by one member. This brought the discussion to a close. A motion to table the subject until the next meeting was carried.

Just before the break for coffee, Ron Manery and Jean Anderson reported to Council on their summer trip to the ISS Seminar in Holland. Both Manery and Miss Anderson said it was a successful experiment in student relations on an international scale.

Constitutional changes were included in the business of the agenda. It was approved that the Treasurer of the Students' Union and the Business Managers of The Gateway and E. & G. be bonded for $500. This bonding would be effective from the time of taking office in April until the books are audited in the fall.

In his report on the progress of the Students' Union Building, President Bowlen told the Council that work was at a standstill due to lack of cement.

Hobbs Leads Bears Attack, Scores Three Touchdowns

Playing in a stiff westerly wind at Clark Stadium, the U. of A. Golden Bears football squad handed out a 18-0 setback to the Junior All-Stars Thursday night.

Harry Hobbs, Goldie full-back, turned in a top-notch performance while picking up 16 points from three touchdowns and a convert.

It was a bad night for the passers. The Bears completed only one pass out of ten attempts, as the All-Stars came up with a zero for four efforts. Both teams had two interceptions chalked up on the debit side of the board.

All-Stars kicked to the Bears to start the game. Ken Moore, aided by the ever-present wind, booted the oval 55 yards to deadline to make the scoreboard read 1-0 with barely 30 seconds elapsed.

PENALTY
A fifteen yard penalty then forced the Stars to kick after they had completed two first downs. Receiving the ball on the Stars 48 yard line the Bears ran the ball back 42 yards in eight plays to set up the first major.

From the six-yard marked Hobbs went over right tackle on a spinner play from Harry Irving for the touchdown. Ken Moore's convert attempt was not good.

See-saw play marked the remaining portion of the first and all of the scoreless second quarter, as neither team could make appreciable gains.

The All-Stars opened the third quarter with a determined ground drive, led by fullback Jack Ross, who reeled off a 25-yard run around left end. Ross was injured on the next play and had to be helped from the field.

An attack similar in almost every detail to the one which set up the first major scene was capped by Hobbs, as he slashed over right end from the six-yard strip to pick up five points with three minutes remaining in the quarter.

The touchdown was almost a single handed effort by Hobbs as he ran 45 yards out of a total of 67 in the drive. At one point Hobbs shook off two Star tacklers and plunged five more yards before running into a solid wall of players. It took the tacklers four more yards to bring the driving back to the ground.

BACKS TO WALL

With their backs to the wall on their own 13-yard line early in the fourth quarter, the All-Stars were forced to kick. Harry Irving, holding down the Bears' safety slot on the play, found the pigskin elusive, as it bounced away from him towards the Goldies touch-line. He finally kicked it out of touch at the 15-yard marker.

The Bears carried the ball from there to the All-Stars 35-yard line in 10 plays, aided by a 15-yard penalty handed out to the Stars for illegal use of the hands.

Diminutive Pete Lougheed swept far around left end for 15 yards before firing a lateral to the ever-present Hobbs, who easily ran the remaining 20 yards for the major.

The convert attempt, kicked by Hobbs, came off the inside of the goal-post and added one more point to make the scoreboard read 18-0.

The final score came with three minutes remaining.

Lougheed and Hobbs played 52 minutes in the hour long fixture.

Summary

First quarter—1. Bears, kick to deadline (Moore); 2. touchdown (Hobbs).
Second quarter—No score.
Third quarter—3. Bears, touchdown (Hobbs); 4. convert (Moore).
Fourth quarter—5. touchdown (Hobbs); 6. convert (Hobbs).

New Courses Offered In Engineering

Several new courses are being offered this year by the Faculty of Engineering, it was announced recently by Dean Hardy.

These new courses are being offered in petroleum engineering, engineering geology, and irrigation engineering. A special sequence of courses designed to suit the needs of students in coal mining is also being offered this year.

The petroleum engineering course is being offered under the department of Chemical Engineering. A petroleum engineer, appointed to the staff of the University, will not arrive until next year.

The first two years of this pattern, general courses will be offered to the students, and in the third year additional courses in chemical, geological and mining engineering will be offered.

GEOLOGY

In the fourth year an additional two and a half courses in petroleum engineering will be given to the students, as well as additional courses in geology.

This year there are twenty students registered in this course. The Association of Professional Engineers of Alberta and the petroleum industry in Alberta are strongly supporting this new course, and the Northern Canadian Petroleum Association is co-operating with the University in the organization of the courses to be offered.

The new course offered in geological engineering is being confined to the top 20 percent of the class, and includes special courses in geology in addition to the usual courses.

IRRIGATION

Irrigation engineering will begin in the third year of the student's curriculum, and four courses of agriculture sciences are being offered as well as two specialty courses in the application of engineering principles of irrigation work.

In the mining pattern the curriculum has been revised for students interested in the different aspects of the coal mining industry.

Military Training Films Featured For COTC Drive

Next week a drive will be held on the U. of A. campus to acquaint students with the work of the COTC. Students who desire to join this organization are requested to get in touch with Major Eagan in Hut H, Room 16.

There will be a meeting of the COTC in the Med Building, Room 158, on Oct. 21, when several films will be shown to interested students. Such topics as Defeated People, Escape from Shangri-La, and Military Training will be presented.

A short question period will follow the showing of these films.

At this meeting there will be a short Corps outline given, and the pay rate and months of summer training necessary for members of the COTC will be outlined.

Council Approves Publicity Group

Machinery to establish a Public Relations Committee was set in motion at Wednesday night's Students' Union Council meeting.

Meeting for their second session this year members of the Council discussed a variety of topics from a rejected suggestion to place pictures on Campus "A" cards to a $1,500 revival of Stet.

Council members approved a motion to form a committee of six students to formulate plans for a Public Relations Committee. Three Council members and three students at large will form the committee.

When the plans of the six-member committee have been submitted and approved by Council, applications will be called to fill the Public Relations Committee.

Purpose of a public relations committee will be to acquaint the general public of the province with the cultural side of university activity.

Keener interest would be stimulated in prospective students through the medium of the PRC, the Council suggested. It was also felt that it might be the remedy for the general disinterest in student affairs shown by Alberta alumni.

STET REVIVAL

Discussion on the revival of Stet was tabled after lengthy references to Gateway surpluses, referendums and the power of the press.

Council was informed that interest had been shown by Harold V. Weekes in bringing Stet to publication again this year.

Stet, a compilation of campus literary efforts, appeared in print once last year under the editorship of Elgin Brislin.

Under the set-up as explained by H. V. Weekes in a letter to Council, the magazine would contain adver-

Plans Completed For Alumni Week

Welcome plans for Homecoming Alumni Week are nearing completion, according to Elaine Brown, chairman of Social Directorate today. Third Annual Alumni Homecoming, first major event for this year's Directorate, is scheduled for the week-end of October 15, 16 and 17.

More than 200 former University of Alberta students are expected to attend the three-day Homecoming festivities.

Registration of the visiting graduates will open the week-end, all day Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., in Conn Memorial Reading Room in the Med Building. Miss Jean Robson is in charge of the registration.

During Friday afternoon the many campus fraternities will be holding open house to Alumni actively or formerly associated with the respective fraternities. Present plans also call for campus tours to acquaint the former Alberta students with the many changes that have taken place since their departure.

Humor will be the keynote of Friday night's Homebrew Variety Show. Artists will include performers of the past and present.

Registration and sale of tickets for the rugby game and the Saturday evening banquet and dance will continue Saturday morning from 9:00 a.m. till noon. Immediately following lunch the panoramic parade to Clarke Stadium will take place. Activities continue with the Golden Bears squad taking the field against an as yet unnamed opponent.

Official welcome will be extended to the Alumni at the banquet Saturday evening in the University Cafeteria, which starts at 7:00 p.m. Scene of

For the first time in University of Alberta history, via the football express to Saskatoon, students from this campus have the opportunity to visit another Canadian university in a body.

Special reduced railroad fares, on-the-train entertainment, a full day's program in Saskatoon, and the fact that November examinations are a full month away, should encourage students to take advantage of the opportunity.

A group of enthusiastic undergraduates have given much time and effort to get the football express ready.

It's up to the students to take advantage of the occasion.

Not only does the special train give those who visit our sister university a chance to have an unusual and entertaining one-day holiday, but it allows students here an opportunity to give full expression to their Varsity spirit.

There are many who decry that "spirit never gets a chance" at U. of A., that the faculty is holding us back, that Students' Council hasn't done such-and-such, or some other loudly-voiced reason.

Here's an opportunity for everyone to prove to himself and the University of Saskatchewan that U. of A. HAS got spirit, that it isn't all in the football team that so far has had to carry the Green and Gold banner.

The faculty has approved the football express, and Students' Council is backing the enthusiastic nucleus of students who originated the idea.

The railroad has offered reduced fares provided a minimum quota of 150 persons is reached.

The rest is up to you.

See you in Saskatoon!

Your Paper, Too

The Gateway is about the only wholesale medium of exchange of news and opinion on the campus.

The newsroom staff can more or less handle the news, but no one except the students themselves can do much about exchange of opinions.

The Gateway has a guest column for the more literary of efforts, and a letters column which in the past has been the battleground for many a lively issue.

It's early in the year, but even so, we've received more letters from Africa and Europe than we have from U. of A. students.

Don't hesitate to send us your opinions of The Gateway, Students' Council, the University, or anything else about which you have an idea.

Contributions may be brought or mailed to The Gateway, Room 26, Athabaska Hall.

Let's hear from you—it's your paper, too.

Distribution Of Yearbook Began Thursday

Thursday the first copies of last year's Evergreen and Gold were available on the U. of A. campus.

Distribution of the book was well under way by Friday, and will continue on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The yearbook will be given out in the basement of the Arts Building from 10:00 to 12:00 on these days.

There are about 2,000 copies of the book available to students, and more will be arriving soon.

Dave Shouldice, assistant director of the Evergreen and Gold last year, will be in charge of distribution, and Pembinites and members of the four women's fraternities will be aiding him.

To obtain their yearbooks, students must present some means of identification, and will be expected to sign for the book. No student will be able to sign for someone else's E. & G. unless a written demand signed by that individual is presented to those handling distribution.

23 YEARS OLD . . .

Canada Varsity Federation Plans Student Exchanges

A vital connecting link between the students and their activities on the U. of A. campus and those on other campuses is the National Federation of Canadian University Students.

This organization, including representatives from all of the 22 Canadian universities, is comparable to the Students' Union Council that is found on each separate campus.

The history of the NFCUS extends back over the past twenty-three years. During the war it was necessary to suspend activities, and the present council has only been in operation for the past three years.

STUDENT EXCHANGE

The NFCUS is at present working on a vast system of student exchanges, between Canadian, Canadian and American, and Canadian and European universities. This service enables students who are interested in attending another university for a year are able to do so through contacting their local NFCUS. Under this service the tuition of the student will be paid for one year.

In addition to this, the NFCUS is the representative for Canadian students in matters relating to foreign student groups and the International Student Organization.

The National Federation of Canadian University Students also works in close co-operation with the Dominion Government, and UNESCO.

PROVIDES SERVICES

The work of the NFCUS does not affect the lives of all the university students every day, but there are many services which have been made possible to students through the work of this organization. In further issues of The Gateway more concerning the various duties that the NFCUS carries out will be explained to the student body.

The University of Alberta NFCUS representative this year is also the Western Vice-President of NFCUS, Teve Miller, fourth year law student. Any person interested in this phase of student activity and would like to assist on the local committee is asked to contact Teve Miller.

SHE LIKES BEARS

I stopped by at my favorite campus coffee shop this morning. Nothing had changed in the summer months I had been away, not even the menu.

"Hi, Lola," I said as my special waitress hove into view at the head of the counter. "You still dream of me?"

"And wake up screaming," she said.

"I see that Humphrey is still here," I said, pointing to a healthy cockroach scooting briskly around the bread crumbs on my left.

"That isn't Humphrey. That's his brother Cecil. Humphrey met up with an accident. What'll you have?"

"Don't rush me, Lola."

"Well, don't take all day. I don't like the boss to have slow business."

"You gonna write anything about college football?" she asked, after placing my ham-on-rye order.

"What should I write?"

"Write that I'm happy the Golden Bears is winning. Them Huskies shouldn't be in the conference."

"Don't you like the Huskies?"

"Oh, they're nice folks all right. But they is sadly out-classed by the Goldies and it is strictly 'no contest' when they play."

"What about the Bears?"

"Terriff", she said, going for my order.

—AND HARRY HOBBS

When she returned I said I heard Harry Hobbs had played a great game last Saturday.

"He scored three touchdowns, that's all. He will have his greatest year in college play. Tempers ran high one time in that game," she continued, "and somebody stepped on the face of a Huskie to remind him to play clean."

"Al Oeming still booking wrestling matches?"

"Sure. It takes all kinds to make a college, don't it? First, we have professors who collect birds' eggs, then along comes Al to mix promoting with books. That Lou Newman he had here last week sure was a stinker."

"This ham you brought has nothing on him," I returned.

"What did he do?"

A TOMATO FOR MCGILL

"Oh, he mussed up that handsome Pat McGill considerable. But the darndest things happened to him. Somebody hit him with a toke bottle and a lady at ringside jabbed him with a hatpin. And he chanced to be leaving the building when someone caught him square in the puss with a tomato which they didn't want. The hockey Bears is going to Colorado, eh?"

"Yeah, it was a fine stroke of business to arrange the trip for next February."

"We had a member of the board of governors in here and he said Andy Andrekson was doing a lot of work on the UAB."

"You had a member of the board of governors in here?"

"Sure, we're broad-minded."

BRUINS ON WINGS

"Well the board is all for Andrekson's plan to fly the Golden Bears to Colorado Springs. It is a very smart undertaking." "Seems I read something in your paper not so long past. About how Johnny Black has been suspended by the Cleveland Barons, for wanting to get an education instead of chasing pucks. Maybe that wasn't so wrong. I feel sorry for Johnny, though. He comes in here and never even kicks about the coffee. It should happen to a nice guy like that!"

"That's life," I said. "And if you want to earn a buck or two make a bet with someone on Cleveland Indians to win the World Series. What do I owe you?"

"Don't bother me with the Serious . . . I got troubles of my own. Just a sec, that'll be 50, 19 and—I make it 84 cents."

"Oh, come off it, Lola! Tell you what I'll do. I'll match you for it, best four out of seven."

Lou Says No

OL' SATCH MAY MISS CHANCE

BOSTON.—Satchel Paige is a mournful man. He looks mournful even when he's happy, and now he has reason to be sad.

He wants to pitch in the world series.

"Mah life ambition," he says, his lower lip hanging out. "Mister Veeck, he says it his ambition to see me out theah on the mound."

But Paige, the ancient, slender Negro who won six sensational victories for Cleveland Indians in midsummer, appears to have faded now.

At any event, when Manager Lou Boudreau was asked if Paige would start a series game, his curt reply was:

"We started with Feller. Today comes Lemmon, and after that Bearden. I haven't decided on my fourth starting pitcher yet."

Hockey Squad's Trip South Arranged For February 4-5

A trip to Colorado Springs for the puck Bruins is now a thing of reality, according to the latest word from the UAB. A delegation of 14, including coach and manager, will go south via air for a two-game series on February 4th and 5th.

Arrangements have been made to quarter the Bears in the Broadmoor, large resort hotel, during their stay. When the invitation was extended, there was no intimation that the Colorado squad expected to come up here for a return fixture.

Quality of the hockey at this southwestern institution is higher than might be expected. A number of Canadians, several from Montreal, attend the U there, considerably boosting the available amount of ice talent. Last season the U of S Huskies made the trip to Colorado, split their two-game affair with the Yanks.

Simultaneous with the above release, it was announced that Pat Mahoney will manage Interfac hockey this semester. A first year Law student, Mahoney hails from Calgary.

Manitoba Bisons Lose To St. Cloud

WINNIPEG (CUP).—On a sun-drenched, dusty gridiron a hopelessly inadequate University of Manitoba football team succumbed to a hustling St. Cloud State Teachers' squad. Boasting three good teams averaging 21 years of age and 180 pounds in weight, the Teachers were full value for their 27-0 win.

A trio of fast, aggressive backfields sparked the St. Cloud attack. Wilbur

Outdoor Club Plans Mammoth Hay-Ride

Red Williams heads the new executive of the Outdoor Club, elected recently. Vice-presidency is filled by Bill Hart, and Al Moren handles secretarial chores.

Class reps selected at the same time are Tom Hulland, Frosh; Bill Linke, Soph; Wayne Minion, Junior; Gord Walker, Senior. Publicity manager is Cal Moffet, second year Geology student.

A "mammoth hay-ride" headlines the Club's fall plans. It will be held on Friday, Oct. 29 or Saturday, Oct. 30. Further details will be forthcoming.

Club membership cards are available from J. O. Sibley, St. Steve's. Work parties will be discontinued for Thanksgiving weekend, but the cabin will be open. And the famous steps up the ski hill are slated for completion in about two weeks.

SOCCKER . . .

By Jack Armstrong

Today I played my first soccer match in more years than I'd care to mention . . . that would be giving my exact age. Having spent upwards of 29 and a half minutes on the field, I feel qualified to make some suggestions on what to do or what not to do, as the case might be.

I joined 12 of my Commerce mates at the S.W. corner of scrimmage and attempted to get into a pair of discarded track shoes left over from the 1919 Varsity squad. Those cleated appendages, by the way, are a grand help and would have no doubt increased our score (at the final whistle) had I found some laces.

Eleven players trotted out at the whistle to give battle to the foe. I was the twelfth. Ten minutes later I was still on the sidelines cheering our team to victory.

I changed my tune, however, as Red came puffing off the field, threw me his sweater, and panted: . . . go in for good old Commerce . . . Empire State and victory." In order to flummox the enemy I placed the sweater on backwards, and in true fashion dashed off madly in all directions.

Several embarrassing moments came up later in the game. It seems that placing one's hand on the object of all the confusion, that little round leather ball, is frowned upon severely in better soccer circles. The other team also seems to take a dim view of having too many players on the field at one time.

Therefore . . . count the players carefully on your three hands so that no mistakes are made, and be sure not to palm the pill.

Needless to say, my sterling assistance aided our Commerce team to a glorious defeat at the hands of the Geologists. And, to paraphrase the words of a famous fight announcer, "the better participants emerged victorious."

Intramural Golfers Play Off Saturday

By J. A. Brown

Local shuttle star Ken Grierson led the way into the third round of the intramural tennis tourney, defeating Bill Henning 6-0, 6-2. Other seeded players of the entry of 64 also advanced without much difficulty.

Tomorrow afternoon more than 40 divot-diggers will tee off in the intramural golf tourney, slated for Prince Rupert course at 2:00 p.m.

Handicaps ranging all the way from 6 to 27 were turned in. Players will make the rounds in three-somes. Director Nathan Reiber warns that entrants must dig up their own caddies.

FEW DEFAULTS IN TENNIS

In first round singles there were very few defaults, though in some cases, the scores were not too close. The second round will probably be completed by Tuesday. Draws for the first round of doubles, posted recently, are expected to be run through early next week.

A healthy entry is expected for the cross-country run, according to Intramural Director Herb McLachlin. Apparently some entries were turned in even before the entry form appeared in The Gateway. Clark Leavitt, prominent in intramural circles last season, will act as manager for the marathon. It was reported that Mr. McLachlin slipped on a pair of spiked shoes and went around the course himself.

His verdict: "Not as tough as I expected, but stiff enough to provide a real race."

TRIBE EVENS SERIES, 4-1

BOSTON. — Nearly 40,000 fans yesterday saw Doug Lemmon and Lou Boudreau spark Cleveland Indians to a 4-1 victory over Boston Braves to even up the '48 World Series at one game apiece. It was the first World Series tilt the Braves ever lost.

The big Indian right hander was in fine form on the mound, though the National League leaders nipped him for eight hits. Lemmon tallied eight put-outs and assists, just two short of a World Series record. Boudreau scored the Tribe's first run and drove in the third.

The series continues at noon Friday, with the Tribe playing host at Municipal Stadium in Cleveland. Starting pitchers will be Gene Bearden and Vern Bickford.

Football Parade For Stamps' Game

All campus clubs and fraternities are busy planning their gaudy entries for the mammoth football parade to Clarke Stadium on Saturday afternoon, October 16th. According to Parade Marshal Vice Chanasyk, this year's colorful procession will consist of 35 floats.

Although definite arrangements have not yet been completed, Vice further stated that he expected some part of the parade would be exclusively alumni.

After forming on the campus early Saturday afternoon, the parade of many floats will proceed to Clarke Stadium, travelling along Jasper Avenue. Alberta's cheer squad will be on deck, and for the downtown portion of the trek at least one band will add its noisy contribution.

Judges to pick the best float have not yet been appointed.

The varied entries will include original and distinctive effects representing the faculties of Engineering, Agriculture, Arts and Science, Commerce, House Ec., Nursing, Education, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Pre-Med, Dent, Law, and numerous men's and women's frats.

Opposition for the Golden Bears in the scheduled game immediately following this cross-Edmonton trek will be Calgary's undefeated Stampede. Golden Bear Manager Andy Andrekson said early in the week that all possible efforts were being made to secure the Stamps for Oct. 16th.

If his plans go through, this special alumni homecoming game will be a real spectacle, and one that no one will want to miss. It would be interesting to see how the undefeated Golden Bears stand up to the as yet undefeated Stampede.

Toronto U's Masterson Sad Over Pyzer's Amazing Dash

By Brian Land
(Varsity Sports Editor)

TORONTO (CUP).—Coach Bob Masterson's general reaction to the 1948 Varsity Blues' first football encounter was one of general encouragement tinged with a shade of disappointment. The Head Coach thinks he should have won.

The brighter side of the picture appears when the relative advantages held by the two squads are put side by side. The Beches-Indians had played seven games before meeting the collegians, and had time to familiarize themselves with the other faces in the huddle. BBI's present lineup sprinkled with well known football names. Bob Cosgrove and Shanty Mackenzie, a 1947 All-Canadian selection, bolster a line which outweighed the Blues 15-20 lbs. per man.

In the Indians' backfield, Johnny Lake, Doug Pyzer (he of the 115 yard scamper), Bob Hazel, Tommy Ford and Ernie Becker are all football "names". The conclusion to be reached seems to be that Beches should have won, on paper at least. A defeat by Varsity certainly would not have added to the BBI's drawing power.

On the disappointing side lay the fact that the split second timing so necessary to the 1948 Varsity plays was lacking. Masterson attributes this to first game tension and to the fact that 37 players were used, six of them as quarterbacks.

Concerning the Pyzer dash down the left touch line, several of the Blues insist that the Beches fast-boy was out at least once. Despite all this he wasn't tackled. "I felt like tackling him myself," was Masterson's observation.

Eight Students Selected For Romeo And Juliet Cast

Dick Taylor, honors physics student at the University, will play the part of Romeo in the forthcoming production of Shakespeare's tragedy, Romeo and Juliet, it was announced today by producer Alwyn Scott.

Meanwhile the search for Juliet continues on the campus, and Alwyn Scott is hopeful that final selection will be made the first part of next week.

Some of the parts in the play have not yet been cast, but among those chosen are: Lady Capulet, Eleanor McNulty; Lady Montague, Lois Enright; Benvolio, Lowell Williams; Mercutio, Jack Freeland; Paris, Jim Simpson; Friar Lawrence, Gil Williams; and Little Peter, Vi Ulasovetz.

Undecided factors in the play are Montague, Capulet, and Tybalt. Alwyn is having difficulty finding someone suitable for portraying the part of the nurse, as well as that of Juliet.

CONSTRUCTION BEGINS
But all of producer Scott's headaches will not cease with the final casting of the characters in the play.

Next week as construction begins on the sets for the play, the workshop of the Drama Society will become a beehive of activity.

Several new features are being used in the sets for Romeo and Juliet. The famous balcony scene of the play presented a difficulty in production, and very little of the traditional features of the scene remain.

This scene in the Scott production will be played on the forestage which is being built into the audience. The only part of the regular balcony used is a massive balustrade which is built on wheels.

BALCONY AND CELL

This structure serves a highly functional purpose—forward it becomes the balcony; reversed it can be used for Friar Lawrence's cell; sideways it is the altar. Use of this set not only facilitates fast scenery changes, but cuts down on the cost of production of the play.

The production of Romeo and Juliet will not only allow students a chance to act in such a famous play, but will also provide work for students interested in all types of backstage work, such as costuming, set designing, prop work, and makeup.

Boy Scout Troop Requires Leader, Other Instructors

Fourth Edmonton Troop of Boy Scouts which has headquarters behind St. Joseph's College is without a Scoutmaster. Anyone interested in this position is asked to contact Dr. J. J. Ower, Provincial Laboratory. Help is also required to give instruction in knots and lashings.

An engineering student could be instrumental in teaching measurement, mapping and the uses of the compass. Qualified instructors in signalling and first-aid are also needed.

First Music Club Concert For October 17

First concert sponsored by the University Musical Club will be held in Convocation Hall on Sunday, October 17, at 9:15.

Artists for this first concert will be Ruth Gillis, soprano, and Lawrence Hobson, violinist, both well-known musicians on the U. of A. campus.

Miss Gillis has long been a consistent winner of festivals in the city, and in 1947 was the second prize winner in the Birks' Musical Award Series. During the summer she was a guest soloist at the summer school musical concert.

Ruth Gillis is at present taking lessons from Professor R. S. Eaton, head of the University of Alberta Music department. Formerly she took lessons from Katherine Zender.

Lawrence Hobson, young Calgary violinist, was soloist with the University Symphony Orchestra last year, and was also presented in a concert by the Musical Club.

Second year Chemical Engineering student, Lawrence, studied under Jascha Galbrin in Calgary, and was a student at the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore for a year.

Church Council May Save World Says Churchman

World Council of Churches formed at Amsterdam may be the instrument for saving civilization, according to Very Rev. T. W. Jones, who spoke to students at St. Stephen's College Tuesday.

Nearly 150 churches from 46 countries met at Amsterdam this summer to come to agreement on the furthering of Christian doctrines throughout the world, Rev. Jones, former moderator of the United Church of Canada, said.

Position of youth in the world will become more difficult as time goes on, claimed the churchman. "There will be more ideologies to cope with, and more direct contact with those of different faiths," he said.

Only solution to this "brutal, modern dilemma is the Christian way," Rev. Jones said.

In conclusion, the United Church minister appealed to University students to adopt the Christian way of life for fulfillment of the potentially greater world to come.

Harrington was the king-pin, crossing the Varsity goal-line twice for a strong 12-point effort. Ably supporting Harrington in the point-getting department were two other backs, Don Rehkamp and Pierce Butler, who each picked up a T.D.

The Varsity team lacked drive, threw bad passes, missed their blocks and tackles, and couldn't have beaten a high school team the way they were playing.

The one good feature of their play was a determined goal-line stand. It took St. Cloud exactly four minutes to run the ball to Varsity's one-yard line.

There, in four plays, the Teachers could not crash through the stout Varsity line. Particularly outstanding in Manitoba's stand were Toar Springstein and Nestor Swystun at guard positions. Joe Chiswell was also brilliant on the last ditch stand Varsity threw up.

Skits, Banquets Scheduled For Alumni Weekend Fete

Novel feature of Alumni Homecoming will be a Variety Show, to be held Friday night, Oct. 15, at 8 p.m., in Con Hall.

Taking an entirely different form than last year's Edmonton-Calgary debate, the show will feature the popular songs and humor of twenty years ago.

During the hour-long performance, songs of the "twenties" will be presented by Al Armstrong and Reg Wilkes. A pre-war barber shop quartet will give voice to the songs of 1937.

Humor will be the theme of a skit contributed by three Law students.

Audience participation has been provided for in the form of a quiz.

High on the list of amusing presentations is a satirical skit patterned after a University oral exam. This presentation will be staged by G. B. Taylor, Registrar of the University, and Mr. Reg Lister, Warden of Athabasca.

Students wishing to attend this evening of entertainment are advised to be at Con Hall early Friday night.

WAUNEITA'S MORRISON ...

... TO ALUMNI

Main speaker of the evening will be a member of the Class of '23, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary. Musical entertainment for the dining guests will be supplied by Al Armstrong-Reg Wilkes duo.

Dr. Swift, Deputy Minister of Education, in the provincial government, and President of the Edmonton branch of the Alumni Association, will propose the toast to the University. President of the University, Dr. Robert Newton, will reply to this toast. Toast to the Alumni will be made by Miss Mary Morrison, president of the Wauneita Association, and answered by Professor Gads of the Faculty of Engineering.

Miss Elizabeth Cloe is in charge of the arrangements for the banquet.

Dr. Max Cantor Outlines Cancer Research Progress

Research has just begun in the battle against cancer, according to Dr. Max Cantor, in a talk to the Scientific Society in the Medical Building on Thursday.

Cancer involves many sciences and as yet cannot be placed in a separate category. Chemistry and other sciences have been unable to isolate the cancer enzyme, said Dr. Cantor. Isotopes which have been used to eliminate some of the radiation, but do not produce a greater healing effect than radium, he stated.

Researchers do not experiment on man in the field of cancer as transference of cancer leads to death. The mouse procedure is followed, the speaker explained.

Certain occupations such as chimney sweeps produce greater numbers of cancer victims. Soot is a source of cancer enzymes, he said.

Dr. Cantor dealt with properties and different varieties of tumors, the growth of cancer, and carcinogenic properties. Study of cancer has opened up new problems which have never before been conceived, he went on. Dr. Cantor explained that there is still a great deal to be covered in this field. Cancer research just began in the late nineteenth century, he concluded.
